INT. CHIP CHESTER'S - GAME ROOM - MORNING

1

Transition out from the MOON to a PIZZA as we pull back for a GOODFELLAS style tracking shot through the Chuck E. Cheese style play room which is totally decked out for Christmas. Lit up trees, mouse-themed wreaths and all the mascots adorned with cute little Santa hats.

The lights go down and everyone turns their attention to the stage... MR. CRUNCH, another mascot, appears behind a DJ BOOTH, speaking in a strip club style baritone voice.

MR. CRUNCH

Ladies and gentlemen, moms and dads, boys and girls, welcome to our holiday blowout! Thank you for spending your Christmas Eve day with us! You know our motto, when you've got literally nowhere else to go, come here! Now, the moment you've all been waiting for...

A normal "CLAP YOUR HANDS" Kids-Bop style song starts as the curtain opens. Munch hits a button and an AIRHORN BLASTS. A fog machine shoots a blast of smoke. Emerging from the mist is CHIP CHESTER, a mousey mascot. The kids lose their minds. He is The Beatles. Elvis. An ICON.

Chip jumps down onto his light-up platform and starts to dance. He is in the fucking zone, pointing at kids, grabbing the moms and seductively dipping them, having an absolute blast. Until...

START >

One of the kids, DENISE, 11, squints her eyes. She whispers to her friend. The fun has stopped, something is off. A piece of Chip's human skin sticks out from the arm.

We do 3 push-ins on the eyes of Denise ALA Sergio Leone, then 3 push-ins on the eyes of the mascot.

DENISE

HE'S A FAKE!!!!

The mood shifts. The kids become aggressive. They pile on to Chip and for the first time we hear him speak... It is none other than the voice of KELLY HAGISK, HAGS himself, now 24 years old!

HAGS

HEY! STOP IT! NO BITING! HELP! DEAR GOD, SOMEONE HELP ME!

Hags tosses a kid off his shoulder and into a table. We are transported into the mask to meet a terrified Hags.
